We have received an important e-mail from the North Pole!!!! This communication informs us Santa Claus will be in town on December 17 at 1:00 p.m. at the library. Good little boys and girls need to be on hand to pick up their treats.

Our thanks to the Marble Rock Study Club and the City of Marble Rock for sponsoring Santa's visit.

Congratulations to Jerry Engelhardt for being elected Mayor, to John Marzen for his election and Steve Wells for his reelection to the City Council. Our election again proves even one vote does make a difference.

Cheers to the RRMR Senior Government Class for sponsoring the Veterans Day Program to honor area Veterans. We need to thank the Veterans every day for their sacrifices and remember those who made the ultimate sacrifice.

Thanks to the Lions Club for remembering those of our community shut-in and in nursing homes with a fruit basket this holiday season.

Cheers to those who decorate their homes and to the City for their downtown decorations.

Thanks to the Historical Society for the Christmas Decorations in the window of the old bank building.

Best Wishes for a Great Christmas and a Blessed New Year!

Dec. 2011

We hope you all had a wonderful Thanksgiving. In the month of November at the After-School Program we did some crafts related to Thanksgiving, and also played a lot of games. We had students studying their states, and doing all kinds of homework this month. The most popular item this month for homework was studying for tests, and quizzes. When students were done with their homework we made turkeys out of jars, which they painted and put feathers on, they had fun with this activity. We also made other turkeys through out the month.

This next month we will be decorating our Christmas tree at the library so come check it out. We are planning on making ornaments to put on it like in the last couple of years, then at the end students take them home. We are also having a sleep in once again at the library. The students look forward to it every year. We play hide n seek in the library and then games, movies, snacks, and this year we will be caroling around town the same night.

\* We also still are selling tickets for our quilt; it is being displayed in the bank. (First Security Bank & Trust, Marble Rock). We will be raffling it off Dec. 16th, 2011 at the banks Christmas open house..... So make sure to get your tickets and support the After-School Program... the tickets are $1.00 each or 6 for $5.00.... Thanks to all who have bought already....*

As always donations of any type are always accepted just drop them off at the library... Thank you so much....

*Merry Christmas & Happy New Year!!!
See you in 2012!!*

Jesus & Black Friday

Every year Thanksgiving's festivities seem to be more and more the prequel to the real holiday of "Black Friday". As soon as the turkey has been stripped, the pumpkin pie sliced, and we've given thanks for our many blessings, the shopping ads cover the table in anticipation of tomorrow's shopping frenzy. And it seems to start earlier and earlier every year. Some stores started lining their shelves with Christmas decorations as Halloween pumpkins and costumes were coming out. Our television shows began to be interrupted with upcoming "Black Friday" specials and deals (though I'll have to admit I laugh every time that crazy Target shopping lady comes on with her stretching and exercising getting ready for the big day). This year retailers even felt they couldn't wait until "Black Friday" but many sales began Thursday evening. I only say all of this to ask: "What is your reason for celebrating Christmas?"

Now don't get me wrong, I'm not one of those "anti-present" people who think that having material stuff is wrong. God created things for us to enjoy. My wife and I actually had most of our Christmas shopping completed before Thanksgiving this year. We've learned that waiting until the last minute is not healthy for our pocketbook. But buying gifts for one another is simply one small tradition that has been added to the true meaning of Christmas. There would be no "Black Friday" for retailers to get their balance sheets out of the red and for us consumers to get excited about if it weren't for that first gift that God sent to earth in the form of a baby. Think of all the wonderful things that happen during this time of year: the excitement of buying gifts for people you love, the fun of seeing family members get together, children and adults singing Christmas carols, the stringing up of lights for others to enjoy, and on and on and on. There are so many traditions and things we enjoy during the Christmas Season, but none of it would have ever come to be if it weren't for Jesus and the gift that God offers through his son. So many people never open God's gift of Jesus and see the great value of what He offers, and yet it's totally and absolutely free. All it requires is for you to accept by faith what Jesus did for you on the cross. So many times you'll hear people say that "Jesus is the reason for the season" when actually they are only partially correct. YOU are the reason for this holiday season! Jesus came for YOU! Christ was born in a manger and then died on a cross to take away your sins. "For God so loved the world, that He sent his one and only son, so that YOU would believe in him and not perish, but have eternal life" (John 3:16). You are the reason that God gave this incredible gift of a baby boy and why we celebrate Christmas.

For those who have already accepted this gift, don't ever take it for granted. Live every day as if it was your last and you've just received it. For those who haven't experienced it yet, all I can say to you is don't leave it unopened. Speaking from personal experience from being on both sides of the story, it's the greatest gift you could ever receive. Don't leave it unopened. As you get ready for December 25th pause and ask yourself "What is my reason for celebrating Christmas?" So from myself and the rest of us at Cedar Point Church, we truly hope that you and your family experience the joy of God's greatest gift this Christmas season!

Christmas Day 2011

This day reveals to us that God has come to us in a way that surprises us because it is so un-godlike. It is un-godlike to be conceived out of wedlock, to be born to a poor couple, to be placed among animals. It is un-godlike to be on the run, to be a refugee. It is un-god-like to be the son of a carpenter.

We value independence, yet Jesus was dependent on his parents and on the world's response to him. How un-godlike could he be? We define God as self-sufficient, needing nothing whatsoever. But Jesus was like us: vulnerable, exposed, fragile, dependent. A baby!

Such a God does not command our response. How un-godlike! But Jesus reveals a God who need to love us and who waits on us to love in return. Therein lies our salvation. So this day reveals to us that the God we have spent Advent waiting for, waits for us. God waits to see how we will respond. If we respond, the promise is peace on earth, good will to all people.

Prayer: O God, teach us how to welcome you. Teach us how to love. Amen.
